Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (Year C)

Sunday, January 20, 2019

Today’s readings encourage us to live in the Spirit as members of the body of Christ, the Church. This life demands that we share the gifts the Spirit bestows on each of us; to do so, we must discern what these gifts are in our spiritual life since, as Saint Paul says in his Letter to the Corinthians, "the manifestation of the Spirit is given for some benefit." In today’s Gospel, Saint John presents the first of the signs that Jesus performed that point out the transformation to which we are all called. At the wedding at Cana, under the loving persistence of his mother for the good of the new spouses, Jesus shows that, in his hands, we will all be transformed through the love of God, who is always attentive to our needs. Our communities would do well to value more the quality of the ministerial groups that function as a whole than the number of groups they can list off. Reflections by each group may be truly valuable for the good of all who make up the body of Christ at the local level and aim to serve those most in need.

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

Unity. What does "unity" mean? For those of us who claim Christ as our model of living and savior of humanity, it means we are one. This year the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity has as its theme the Scripture citation 2 Corinthians 5:14-20. The first line contains our mission statement... "For the love of Christ impels us, once we have come to the conviction that one died for all; therefore all have died." If that is not a mandate for unity, then there is none. We are one in the death of Christ and therefore live in unity with all other Christians.

God, who are unity in three holy persons--Father, Son, and Holy Spirit--you have called us to live in peace with all people.
You have also called us to work toward unity in purpose to spread the Gospel to all nations.
Graciously give us the courage and strength to work toward unity, and act toward each other as brothers and sisters.

We ask this in the unity of God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
Amen.

A story of the 100 year history of the St. Francis Altar Society of the Cathedral Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi

A story for those in ministry
A story of personal devotion
A story of things that change and endure
A story of the call to follow Jesus Christ

Wildflowers and the Call to the Altar is a fascinating story of the history of the St. Francis Altar Society, embedded within the tri-cultural nexus of Santa Fe, New Mexico. For close to a hundred years, the society responded to the call that the church, established in 1610, required a formal Altar Society to care for the sanctuary needs, yet also to address the personal sacristization of the members. Since its inception, the society has served the altar of the church and extended its vision to “the altar of the world” through works of social justice, which are more urgent than ever, along with the care of the altar and the humility. There is room for the holiness and display of women to serve the church. Under the mantle of humility and the commitment to mission, the women of the St. Francis Altar Society have embraced the call to ministry and discipleship extended to all in the Gospels. Service to the altar extends into the world, where the reality of the love of Christ intersects with everyday life.

Skya Abbate is a doctor of Oriental medicine in New Mexico. She holds multiple master's degrees in sociology, pastoral studies and biographies and health policy. She has been the most longstanding president of the St. Francis Altar Society (fourteen years) and serves in many parish ministries. She is the author of seventeen books in areas that include medicine, spirituality, nonfiction, and children's books (which she also illustrated).
